ARE NOT DISMAYED

Big Attractions Will Not Be Cancelled at the Toler.

Signor Campanari's engagement, while a decided success, judged from a standpoint of artistic excellence, was an equally decided failure from a financial standpoint. The manager of the Auditorium lost a round sum of money on the venture.
In consequence of this fact, which was apparent to all who attended the recital, and to none more than to Signor Campanari himself—it began to be rumored that some of the other high class attractions slated for Wichita, notably that of Suzanne Adams, next on the list according to the original program, would be cancelled. In an interview last evening Col.
Toler declared that such was his intention after mature deliberation, and while he admitted that he lost money on the last recital, he declared that he was averse to "showing the white feather" and was determined to give to the public the attractions he had promised. Suzanne Adams, he said, would appear as advertised. The music loving people of Wichita and vicinity in particular, and all lovers and patrons of high-grade theatrical performances in general, will no doubt be pleased with this determination of the management.

SPOKE AT THE EMERSON

J. W. Tapp Delivers Addresses to School Children.

J. W. Tapp made two addresses at Emerson school yesterday. One was to the third and the other to the seventh grade. Mr. Tapp spoke on the pioneer days of Kansas. He made very interesting addresses to the children, and to the older classes to make a point on the wonderful school system that today is in Kansas. Then he told of the hard work and the privations it had caused in early days for this system to become what it is at present.

J. E. McVicar, who has been at Cripple Creek, Colo., for some time, is home on a three weeks visit in Wichita.

Sousa concerts have the same characteristic spontaneity and dash, and are alike refreshing to the hearer, so it is a pleasure to know that the March King is to bring his band here for a concert at the Toler Auditorium on November 5.

Elizabeth Kennedy, who plays the part of Miss Trenton in "Captain Jinks of the Horse Marines," is a young actress in whose personality there is a great deal of interest. She comes from a distinguished southern family which met with reverses during the Civil war, throwing the young girl upon her own resources later in life. Miss Kennedy is described as a woman of unusually striking type, embodying the characteristics of the beautiful creatures of fancy executed by Gibson and Christy. When Mr. Clyde Fitch, author of "Captain Jinks," saw Miss Kennedy in the role of Miss Trenton, he declared that if he had searched from one end of the country to the other he could not have found an actress who was better fitted for the part of Miss Trenton than Miss Kennedy. She will appear at the Toler Auditorium Monday, November 10. Seat sale November 5.

"PRINCESS CHIEF"

We weary of being serious and analytical, and at such times we appreciate genuine comedy and appreciate it the more when it is just the place to satisfy this mood. Many old favorites will still be seen in the cast of this opera comique, the one conspicuous change in the company being the assumption of the role of "Brevet," by the popular basso comedian, Joseph C. Miron, who originally created the part. The unaltered in musical affairs have often asked why "the Princess Chief" is termed an opera comique instead of a comic opera, and for the benefit of those the difference is here explained. Comic opera has lost its original significance and now means any kind of a farce in which musical and terpsichorean specialties are introduced; while an opera comique is a real comedy drama set to music. One of the best examples of opera comique is Bizet's "Carmen," and while "the Princess Chief" is similar to this in the excellence of its solo ensemble and dramatic lines, still it contains irretrievable comedy which "Carmen" lacks. "The Princess Chief" with beautiful and talented Christine Hudson in the title role, will be seen in this city at the Toler Auditorium this season.

At the Crawford.

The above play was the attraction at the Crawford last night and proved to be one of the best offerings of the season. Of all Mark E. Swain's productions we would pronounce this one his best effort. It has a remarkably strong and original plot, one that holds the attention of an audience from the start to the finish. The company presenting the same is a very capable one in every respect, each and every member seemingly having been especially selected for their respective parts.

FOXY QUILLER.

The comic opera success, "Foxy Quiller," with Mr. Richard Golden as the star, will be the offering at the Crawford at the matinee this afternoon and tonight, and its presentation here by the largest operatic organization that has ever toured the country will be a musical event of more than ordinary interest. The original production of this highly praised work will be seen here, and a genuine treat is in store for lovers of this form of entertainment. The opera has all the brightness and catchiness in its tunes and libretto to furnish excellent entertainment to a laughter-loving public. It appeals to the ear as De Koven knows best how to appeal, and to the eye as well with Harry H.
Sullivan's special faculty for creating cerebral fun. And the combination is that from which only good things can be expected, since De Koven and Sullivan are as famous a trade-mark on light opera in this land and generation as the Gilbert and Sullivan brand of a departed day.
The management has developed all the good qualities of "Foxy Quiller" to their utmost, beautiful women, superb stage settings, magnificent costumes and the military drills of surpassing grace and color effects. A splendid collection of male and female voices, and a cast that is not equally rivaled. It includes Miss Carlotta Gilman, Adolph Zink and other notable artists. The organization is under the management of Mr. Ben Stern, which in itself is a guarantee of excellence.

THE PEDDLER'S CLAIM.

Tuesday being election night, special arrangements have been made to have election returns received and read from the stage during the performance of "The Peddler's Claim" at the popular Crawford theater, with Sam Morris in the title role.
Morris said to excel all his previous efforts as a comedian in the portrayal of Moses Levi in this play. While fun and merriment are the order of the day there is an underlying story of the struggle of a young woman to regain her honor and the manliness as portrayed of western life where the scene of the drama is laid, and are said to be strikingly realistic and true to nature.

THE EVIL EYE.

A special and pleasing feature of Chas.
H. Hale and Sidney R. Ellis' "The Evil Eye" will be the marvelous English dancers, the original Phaezy troupe, increased and augmented to sixteen members. The Phaezy troupe consists of sixteen young ladies, selected by Alfred and Madame Phaezy, of England, from over five hundred girls in their European training school. These girls are as clever as they are beautiful, and introduce in "The Evil Eye" three new ballets and also appear as a military band, being expert instrumentalists and finest musicians.

Another novelty will be the Troubadour Four, comedians, singers and travesty artists, in their original comedy creation, "Odds and Ends From Here and There."

AIDEN BENEDICT'S NEW ATTRAC-TION, "THELMA."

Marie Corelli's well-known novel, "Thelma," has been dramatized by Chas.
W. Chase and will be presented for the first time in this city by Alden Benedict's excellent company at the Crawford on Wednesday, November 10th. The play has successfully produced last season throughout the east by two of Mr. Benedict's companies. It was both a financial and artistic success and pronounced a most wonderful piece of work. The cast has been carefully selected. The scenery and electrical effects are all new, and indicate a point to a very large audience in this city.

WEIGHS THOUSAND POUNDS

Doctor Cave Gets a Fine X-Ray Machine.

Dr. Cave and his brother yesterday got in a very fine X-ray machine. It was no sooner on its legs than half a dozen persons approached with fear and trembling and looked through a piece of green cardboard at the bones of their hands. The machine is a large one and weighs about 1,000 pounds. It is wonderful to watch it generate the electricity, that in turn does so many great things

LAST OF CAMPAIGN

Mr. Long Will Finish at Harper This Evening.

AT WELLINGTON TODAY

Had Big Meetings Throughout Shortgrass District.

(Special Correspondence of the Eagle)

Wellington, Kan., Oct. 31.—The last work of Chester I. Long's Seventh district campaign will end tomorrow night at Harper. He will speak tomorrow afternoon, and at Harper at night. There will then be but one more meeting—the one at his home Monday night, where he always closes his campaign.

The week's work began at Lakin. Out in the heart of the Kansas beet district, Mr. Long took his ideas on reciprocity with Cuba and exhibited them. There was not one to make objection. No one chided him for his opinions and actions respecting this just and fair doctrine of the Roosevelt administration. He spoke to a large audience in the afternoon, and had the interest and friendly greeting he always receives in that little shortgrass town.

From Lakin Mr. Long went Monday night to Garden City, the capital of the shortgrass kingdom. There that night he again faced an audience which was large and sympathetic. Some unkind beet advocates had said weeks before, when Mr. Long was upon a sickbed, and had on that account canceled a former Garden City meeting, that the representative feared to come into the beet country, so alleged, of Finney. Mr. Long not only came, but again talked reciprocity, and again there was no visible or outward sign of objection or disapproval. He discussed the question fairly and honestly, and the audience was interested, and applauded.

On Tuesday Mr. Long was to go to Liberal for an afternoon meeting, but the lateness of his train prevented, and instead he caught a freight train to Greenburg, where he was to speak at night.
Here an all-day rally was in progress.
United States Senator J. R. Burton was there, and he and Mr. Long divided time speaking in the afternoon to an immense audience for that little town. They talked tariff, trusts, urged voters to favor the party which had brought prosperity and contentment to this country, and stirred up the assembled Republicans to a high pitch.

Wednesday afternoon Mr. Long addressed a large crowd in Pratt. The meeting was one of the best ever held there.
He expounded Republican doctrine to his audience, which was interested and appreciative throughout. The Pratt event was also an all-day rally, and the streets were filled the day long with Republicans from all over Pratt county, and many from northern Barber.

Yesterday was a red-letter day for Kingman county. In the home of the chairman of the state committee, Morton Albaugh—and the home as well of Mr.
Long's chairman for ten years, Frank Harlow—the Seventh district representative addressed an enthusiastic meeting of the county central committee in the morning, and in the afternoon, despite the prophecies of Major "Bill" Brown and others of the opposition for a front, addressed the large open house filled with Republicans and others from every portion of the county. It was a rousing meeting. It did a lot of good. It set the pace for the opposition rally of last night, which was addressed by Major A. M.
Harvey, of Topeka, and J. M. Lewis of Kinley, the latter the Democratic romance for auditor of state. Their meeting was no match for the Republican rally of the afternoon.

Tonight at Arkansas City, Mr. Long left the district for the first time this week, and again had an excellent crowd.
The legislative and general situation in all the counties visited this week is very good. In Kearney county, Dr. G. C. W.
Richards is the nominee for member of the legislature, and will be elected. Dr.
Richards will make an excellent member of the house.

In Finney county, one of the strong Republican counties, W. M. Kinnaman is the nominee. Fitted in every respect for the legislature, he will easily be elected.

In Kiowa county a desperate fight has been made on John W. Davis, Republican nominee. This came from his own party, one faction of it, as well as from the opposition. But this is breaking away, the general impression is that Davis has his opponents on the run, and that he will be elected. He served in the legislature of 1901.

In Pratt county, the present representative, Dr. R. C. Hutchison, is a candidate for reelection. He made a good record two years ago and will again win.

In Kingman county, T. G. Munroe, a prominent young farmer and cattleman who served well in the legislature of 1901 is standing for reelection. He will easily win, it is thought, and again do good work for his county in the coming session.

In the Arkansas City district of Cowley county, E. D. Pollock, a bright young man with much political experience, is the Republican nominee. He has a hard fight, but there is every indication that he will be successful.

All these candidates for the legislature are for Mr. Long for United States senator, and in each instance he made a special plea and did good work for their election.

It has been a highly successful and pleasant week for Mr. Long, and one fittingly to close the long campaign.

Roosevelt Visiting in Virginia.

Washington, Oct. 31.—President Roosevelt and a small party will leave here tomorrow morning on an outing of a day or two in Virginia. It is probable some of the battlefields of the Civil war will be visited.

London, Oct. 31.—At a meeting of the Cuban Central railway limited Wednesday the chairman, White Todd, spoke encouragingly of the political and economic prospects of Cuba in spite of the present depression in the sugar trade.
